

— What stays in your head, dies in your head

It's not what you know.

It's what you do.

It's not what you think about.

It's what you do.

It's not what you talk about.

It's what you do.

It's not what you plan.

It's what you do.

It's not what you learn.

It's what you do.

It's not what you figure out.

It's what you do.

It's not what you get excited about.

It's what you do.

It's not what you believe.

It's what you do.

What you do is senior to all else.

What you do is all that matters.

Those who thrive do what matters.

The mediocre do everything else.

Do what matters.

— Dusan Djukich